1.0 PRIVACY NOTICE

Data Protection Act 2018: How We Use Pupils Information

The responsible body collects and holds personal information relating to its pupils and may also receive information about them from their previous school, local authority and/or the Department for Education (DfE). We use this personal data to:

- support our pupils' learning
- monitor and report on their progress
- provide appropriate pastoral care; and
- assess the quality of our services

Once pupils reach the age of 13, the law requires the responsible body to pass on certain information to the nominated government agency which has responsibilities in relation to the education or training of 13-19 year olds. The responsible body may also share certain personal data relating to children aged 16 and over with post-16 education and training providers in order to secure appropriate services for them. A parent/carer can request that only their child's name, address and date of birth be passed to Adviza by informing the responsible body's Data Controller. This right is transferred to the child once he/she reaches the age 16.

The responsible body will not give information about our pupils to anyone without either the parents' or pupil's consent unless the law and our policies allow us to do so. If you want to receive a copy of the information about your son/daughter that we hold, please contact the responsible body's Data Controller.

The responsible body is required, by law, to pass some information about our pupils to the Department for Education (DfE). This information will, in turn, then be made available for use by the Local Authority.

The lawful basis upon which the responsible body processes personal data is that it is necessary in order to comply with the responsible body's and schools' legal obligations and to enable it to perform tasks carried out in the public interest.

The DfE may also share pupil level personal data supplied by the responsible body, with third parties. This will only take place where legislation allows it to do so and it is in compliance with the Data Protection Act, 1998 and the updated legislation of 2018. Decisions on whether DfE releases this personal data to third parties are subject to a robust approval process and are based on a detailed assessment of who is requesting the data, the purpose for which it is required, the level and sensitivity of data requested and the arrangements in place to store and handle the data. To be granted access to pupil level data, requestors must comply with strict terms and conditions covering the confidentiality and handling of data, security arrangements and retention and use of the data.

8.0 PUPILS: WHO MIGHT WE SHARE YOUR PERSONAL DATA WITH?

The responsible body routinely shares personal data with schools that the pupil might attend after leaving one of our schools, our government department for education and our local authority.

We do not share information about pupils with anyone without consent, unless the law and our policies allow us to do so. The responsible body shares pupils' data with government departments on a statutory basis. This data sharing normally underpins school funding and any educational attainment policy and monitoring. The responsible body may share pupils' personal data with local authorities who provide training to pupils, e.g. around youth support services.

There may be instances where the responsible body needs to share personal data with a service provider who manages automated biometric data processing systems. Biometric data processing is one example of where we will seek parental consent. The National Pupil Database is owned and managed by the Department for Education and contains information about pupils in schools in England.

9.0 EMPLOYEES: WHO MIGHT WE SHARE YOUR PERSONAL DATA WITH?

To maintain and improve services, your personal data may need to be shared with or disclosed to service providers, other controllers or, in some cases, public authorities. We may be mandated to disclose your personal data in response to requests from a court, police services or other regulatory bodies. Where feasible, we will consult with you prior to making such disclosure and, in order to protect your privacy, we will ensure that we will disclose only the minimum amount of your information necessary for the required purpose.

10.0 LOOKING AFTER PERSONAL DATA

The responsible body limits the amount of personal data collected only to what is fit for the purpose of the employment relationship. The responsible body restricts, secures and controls all of our information assets against unauthorised access, damage, loss or destruction; whether physical or electronic, and we ask that our employees assist us in these activities.

The responsible body retains personal data only for as long as is necessary to fulfil the requirements of the employment relationship, respond to requests from employees, or longer, if required by law. If the responsible body retains your personal data for historical or statistical purposes it will ensure that the personal data cannot be used further. While in our possession, with your assistance we try to keep your data up to date.

11.0 PUPILS: HOW CAN YOU ACCESS YOUR PERSONAL DATA?

Parents and pupils have the right to request access to information about them that the responsible body holds. To make a request for your personal data, or to be given access to your child's educational record, you may make a request from the responsible body's Data Controller. Parents/pupils also have the right to:

- object to the processing of personal data that is likely to cause, or is causing damage or distress;
- prevent processing for the purposes of direct marketing;
- object to decisions taken by automated means;

- in certain circumstances, have inaccurate personal data rectified, blocked, erased or destroyed;
- claim compensation for damages caused by a breach of data protection regulations.

12.0 EMPLOYEE: HOW CAN YOU ACCESS YOUR PERSONAL DATA?

As an employee you have the following rights.

You have the right to request access to your personal data which the responsible body might hold as well as the rights to rectify, erase or restrict the processing of such information. You may make a request for access to your personal data from our HR Department.

Where you have previously given consent to process your personal data, you have right to request that your personal data be ported (transferred) to a different service provider, or to yourself.

Where it may have been necessary to get your consent to use your personal data, at any moment, you have the right to withdraw that consent. If you withdraw your consent, we will cease.
